

Arek Komarnicki

Web & Mobile Developer and UI Enthusiast

arek.komarnicki@gmail.com
077 388 56909

arekom.me
github.com/arekom
twitter.com/arekom_

I'm a fast-minded, creative problem solver that thinks outside the box. Working with web and mobile technologies made me understand how vast and exciting they are. I enjoy learning new things and having my ideas be challenged. I am also a big fan of dialog and constructive confrontation.

Education

BSc Hons Computer Networks 2009–2012
Network Programming
Faculty of Computer Science and Information Technology

Middlesex University of London

Skills

HTML(5) & CSS (SASS, Stylus)	Python
JavaScript (jQuery)	Ruby on Rails
LAMP	Responsive Web Design
Android	CMS - Wordpress
Git	Adobe Photoshop

Fluent in English & Polish

Experience

Mobile Developer 2012–present
CALM, London
Responsible for development of Android application which helps users to find the location of CALM magazines in London. Besides the location the application is used as discussion platform.

Junior Network Administrator 2011–2011
Monitor Group, London
Monitored the network performance, bandwidth and link utilisation, services for health and pro-active solving of any potential problems indicated by various alerting systems. Configured changes to DHCP and DNS servers, and Radius configuration on Centos 5.5 and on the switches.

References available upon request

Certifications

Unix Administrator (General) 2012–present
Brainbench